

FREDERICK WILDMAN AND SONS, LTD.
IMPORTERS AND WINE MERCHANTS

MARCHESI DI BAROLO - ARNEIS ROERO DOCG 2018

OVERVIEW

Terroir: The grapes used in making this wine come from the finest vineyards situated on the hills of the Roero zone to the west of Alba. The vines are grown with Guyot (VSP trellised) system on hills with steep inclines and terrains consisting primarily of calcareous sand.

Vinification: The grapes, collected by hand, are destemmed and delicately crushed to only the noblest and most aromatic parts of the skin. The must is fermented in thermo-conditioned steel tanks at 68 °F. Then the wine is stored in steel tanks to preserve its typical, fresh fragrance. Sitting in contact with the lees for a long period of time makes this wine long-lived. Roero Arneis wine shows its finest characteristics in its first years.

ADDITIONAL DETAILS

Tenuous straw-yellow color, at times with a pale old-gold tone. Fruity odor with clean scents of green hazelnuts and wild chamomile. Fresh, sapid flavor with sensations similar to those offered by the odor. A classic fish and seafood wine that also accompanies appetizers in general. Because of its big structure, it also complements introductory dishes.

Technical Details

Appellation: Roero DOCG
Winemaker: Flavio Fenocchio
Sustainability: Sustainable Practices
Soil: Calcareous Sand
Alcohol: 13.5%

Ttl Acidity: 5.4g/l
Residual Sugar: 3.2g/l
Sizes Available: 750ml
Varietals: 100% Arneis

RECENT NEWS

Forbes

Date: Tuesday, January 7, 2020

9 Best White And Red Wines To Gift in 2020

JamesSuckling.com

Author: James Suckling

Date: Sunday, June 16, 2019

Rating: 90

"A very and clean white with sliced-pear and lemon character. Medium body. Crisp finish. Steely and bright arneis. Drink now."